

Manhattan Community Board 9
General Board Meeting
February 20, 2020

Called to attention at 6:38pm.

Presentations

Shawn Rickenbacker, CCNY Max Bond Center for Urban Futures

Work with Housing & Land Use to give committee a useful web-based Geographic Information System (GIS) tool to speculate about district's future and how committee deals with developers. Similar models: CB3 used approach to build Lower East Side Resiliency Plan; Brooklyn CB2 working on revisioning BQE.

Team worked to identify land and property assets and trends in real estate market. System lets users forecast and monitor change. Goal is to let CB9 be proactive about urbanization. Team is preparing tutorials for users. Example datasets include supermarkets and HDFCs along Broadway, with option to layer on city datasets. Can be used to identify potential development sites and what can be built as of right. Along with partner software Vivacity, put 3D model of hypothetical building, DOB data, and FAR data side by side.

Meeting called to order at 6:55pm. There was a quorum.

Chair's Report

Per Borough Board meeting, anticipated budget cuts from State and City budgets. Successful January town hall on Morningside Park and creating more opportunities for youth.

Ongoing projects include street and sidewalk reconstruction on 12th Avenue. Landmarks Preservation Commission adopted rules to let staff make more decisions, with some poor results. Dealing with RAD privatization of NYCHA to ensure complete restoration of buildings occurs. Urging MTA to add elevators to subway stations. Rezoning of Morningside Heights. Repurposing of RKO Hamilton Theater. Expand facilities for Columbia Secondary Schools and other schools colocated with it.

New initiatives include connecting CB9 residents to MWBE opportunities and union apprenticeships. Looking to ensure former Child's Memorial Tabernacle Church becomes permanent housing for formerly homeless people, rather than temporarily serving as shelter housing.

February 24: public budget hearing to discuss city agency responses to CB budget priorities.

Treasurer's Report

Allocation from Council Members for community education and outreach: $12,500. Seven committees submitted proposals by January 31, with impressive visions and proposals including recognizing outstanding local individuals and businesses, neighborhood studies, town halls, educational programming.

CB also gets $42,500 to further our work with the community from the city.

District Manager's Report

Plastic bag ban takes effect March 1 – remember to carry reusable bags. Ed Gordon will be holding an event on his new book at City College.

FY21 preliminary budget hearing on February 24; district office can also provide copies of board's budget requests. Written testimony forms are available and can be dropped off at board office to be included in the board's report.

Assemblymember Danny O'Donnell

All electeds around Columbia demand that they keep promises to the community. He and AM Dickens met with high level DOE officials to make clear that Columbia must follow through on promise to build a school, and DOE must accept it. Key insight is that Columbia's covenant to build a school somewhere in Manhattanville development was signed after the letter Columbia had been relying upon to avoid commitment on a specific site. Giving Columbia the chance to do the right thing; otherwise, prepared to issue strongly worded letter and public relations campaign.

Office is providing free reusable bags. Looking into state program to emulate programs in San Francisco and Texas that allow small local businesses to be designated to unlock federal funds to make improvements.

Fight back against Governor's budget. HDFCs are extraordinarily important and must remain – disagree with some colleagues proposing to take them away. Bill in Albany to preclude state financing for institutions with endowment of over $8 billion.

Meeting agenda and minutes adopted at 7:30pm.

WHDC Representative, Patricia Johnson

Pathways to apprenticeship is recruiting, with information sessions in late March. Contact West Harlem Skills Training Program for more information. Also providing culinary apprenticeship program for people interested in jobs as line cooks.

MBPO, April Adams

Capital grant funding applications available (deadline 5pm February 21). Office distributing reusable bags. March 1: Women's History Month open house. Talking with EDC about 12th avenue revitalization. Thanks for successful Morningside Park Community Forum.
