

District Manager's Report January, 2021

RECENT UPDATE ON VACCINE: The COVID-19 vaccine is now available to certain groups in NYC. The following groups have recently become eligible:

- People ages 65 and older
- Teachers and education workers
- First responders
- Public Safety Workers
- Public Transit Workers

Learn which groups are currently eligible for the vaccine, and which may be eligible next.

Mayor's Office Reported: Eligible New Yorkers in Phases 1A and 1B can reserve their vaccine appointments at nyc.gov/VaccineFinder or by calling 877 – VAX – 4NYC

Over 100,000 COVID-19 vaccine doses were administered in New York City last week, Mayor Bill de Blasio announced today, surpassing the City's initial benchmark goal. This comes as New Yorkers 75 or older and frontline essential workers such as teachers and education workers, childcare staff, first responders, public safety workers, and public transit workers are now eligible to get the free COVID-19 vaccine. Eligible New Yorkers in Phase 1A or 1B can reserve their appointment by calling 877 – VAX – 4NYC or visiting nyc.gov/VaccineFinder.

New Yorkers can now make their vaccine appointments using the City's Vaccine Finder, launched yesterday, which aggregates all vaccination locations open to the eligible public citywide into a single, accessible five-borough network, including:

- City-run sites, like the NYC Vaccine Hubs and 24/7 the City has opened and continues to open,
- as well as private provider locations, not run by the City, but accessible to eligible individuals for appointments

This helpful tool allows New Yorkers to access the vaccine however works for them, at locations they know and trust in their own communities. Eligible New Yorkers who wish to make an appointment over the phone can do so by calling 877 – VAX – 4NYC between the hours of 8:00 AM - 9:00 PM, seven days a week.

Phase 1A priority groups also continue to be eligible for vaccines including healthcare workers and staff with direct patient contact, emergency responders, staff at COVID-19 testing and vaccination locations, home health aides, and long-term care staff and residents, among others.

HHC Test and Trace Reported: Test and Trace is providing in-person and virtual community events with the Test and Trace Unit's Manhattan Outreach Team. Also, each week their team hosts events called Get Tested Tuesday - a Day of Action dedicated to a targeted community such as seniors or youth, etc. In addition, Test and Trace has contracted local CBOs and canvassers who are working tirelessly, on a daily basis, to connect with NYC residents.

If you are hosting an in-person or virtual event - such as a community stroll, Zoom meeting, or testing site – Test and Trace would be happy to partner with groups. Volunteers who wish to assist, or have an event in the near future, please email details to Lorean Valentin, Manhattan Borough Outreach Director, via email: ValentiL8@nychhc.gov.

New York City Office of Emergency Management kicked off Ready Up NYC, a monthly webinar series focused on providing preparedness tips to all residents of New York City for any emergency that may come their way. On Thursday, January 14 the agency's Ready New York team hosted the first webinar geared at helping New Yorkers identify items that should be included in their emergency Go Bag. Go Bags are essential to any emergency plan, and should include a collection of items needed in the event you must leave your home quickly during an emergency. Please watch the webinar at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=stOo-qG-omI&feature=youtu.be>.

During the webinar, the Ready New York team highlighted the three basic steps to emergency preparedness: making a plan, gathering supplies and staying informed. Participants learned about important items they should pack in their Go Bags including first aid kits, flashlights, water, and nonperishable foods. The presenters also discussed the importance of creating individualized Go Bags for every member of the home including children and pets. New Yorkers can request a virtual Ready New York training for their organization, workplace, or house of worship by visiting, <https://www1.nyc.gov/site/em/ready/request-event.page>.

READY NEW YORK

Ready New York is NYC Emergency Management's public education campaign. Through the program, you can learn about the hazards you may face in New York City and prepare for all types of emergencies by writing an emergency plan, choosing a meeting place, gathering supplies for your home, and preparing a Go Bag in case you need to leave your home in a hurry. For more information on how you can stay prepared visit, <https://www1.nyc.gov/site/em/ready/ready-new-york.page>.
